You ' ve been teaching a course on Chinese philosophy at Harvard. I wonder if you could say a little bit about that. The goal of the course is to allow students to read the texts themselves. They are in translation, of course, but I only assign primary texts. I even tell students not to read secondary literature.

The Shijing (Classic of Poetry) is the earliest anthology of Chinese poetry and is thought to have been compiled by Confucius. The 305 poems in the collection are thought to date from about the 11th to 6th century bc. They include folk songs of daily life, songs of court life, and eulogies, or songs of high praise.
